TEXT 1

Join us this Friday for our annual Teachers' Day! The celebration will be held in the school gym! There will be songs, poems and small gifts for our amazing teachers. Don't miss it! All students are welcome!

Sandra

1. The girl:

- A. explains how to decorate the gym.
- B. describes a new lesson plan.
- C. invites students to a school event .

TEXT 2

Hi Kate,
Our Teachers' Day celebration was amazing! Each class prepared something special. We sang songs, recited poems, and gave flowers to our teachers. Everyone had a great time and our headteacher even made a short speech. It was such a lovely day!
Love,
Anna

2. This email was written to:

- A. ask someone to organize a school concert.
- B. complain about the event.
- C. describe how the celebration went.

TEXT 3

Dear Mark,

I'm really upset because our teachers work so hard, but many students don't appreciate them. They make jokes during lessons and never say "thank you." I think we should be more respectful and show gratitude, especially on Teachers' Day. What do you think I should do to change that?

Tom

Hi Tom,

You're right. It seems to me that you could start by saying something nice to your teachers and encouraging others to do the same. What about asking your parents for advice? Remember that small actions can make a big difference!

Mark

TEACHERS' DAY

Teachers' Day is a special day to celebrate and thank teachers for their hard work. In many countries, it is celebrated on different dates. 1..... On this day, students often give flowers, cards, or small gifts to their teachers. Schools usually organize short performances. And pupils sing songs, recite poems, or act in funny sketches. 2..... Teachers enjoy seeing their students perform and feel appreciated for their work. Teachers' Day is not only about gifts and performances. It is also a time to remember how important teachers are. 3..... Many students use this day to say a simple "thank you". It is always a happy day at school as students feel proud of their work and teachers feel loved and respected. Teachers' Day is a small but meaningful way to show that education is valuable and that teachers make a real difference in students' lives.

- A. Some schools also have competitions, games, or special assemblies.
- B. While in other countries, such as India or the United States, it is held on different dates.
- C. For example, in Poland, it is on October 14th
- D. They help students learn new things, give advice, and support them every day.

You can even order a printed version of the card, beautifully packed and ready to give on Teachers' Day.

TEKST 2

Customer Reviews (5/5)

Julia: I ordered a card for my history teacher last week. I must admit that the website was easy to use, and the design looked amazing! The print quality was great, and it arrived safely in a nice envelope. Even after a few days on the classroom wall, the colours still look bright. I'll definitely order something again next year!

ZADANIE 10

Hi Mark,

Last week my school celebrated Teachers' Day. The ceremony took place in the school gym because it's the biggest room, and all the students and teachers could fit there comfortably. As for details, we decorated it with balloons and colourful posters made by students. The event started with a short speech from our headteacher. Then, some students sang songs, recited poems and performed a funny play about school life. Everyone was laughing and clapping loudly. After the show, we gave flowers and small gifts to our teachers. I must say that I felt really happy and proud that we could thank our teachers for their hard work. It was a wonderful and emotional day!

Take care,
XYZ
